

JULIE ROSS

Julie is a partner in the law firm of Lynn Ross Gannaway & Cranford, LLP. Her law practice is devoted solely to employment law. Her office is in Fort Worth, but she represents employers all over the State of Texas. Julie's practice encompasses all aspects of employment law, including investigations, counseling employers and managers on interviewing, hiring, disciplining, and terminating employees; drafting personnel policies and procedures, employment contracts, and noncompetition agreements; assisting employers with wage and hour, overtime and other compensation issues; representing clients before the EEOC and DOL; and training in all areas of employment law, including sexual and other unlawful harassment, FMLA, ADA, FLSA, documenting and discipline, and effective employment practices; all in an effort to help clients avoid employment litigation and/or minimize liability.

Julie is a proud Longhorn and Red Raider. She graduated from UT with a BBA degree in Accounting and received her JD from Texas Tech School of Law.
